SUMMARY OF PROJECT: The property was utilized for the manufacture of paper from as early as the mid-1800's until the spring of 2000. Potential sources of contamination include oil storage containers, polymer vats, various paper manufacturing processes throughout the plant, and fill material used to develop the property. Selected contaminants of concern include VOCs, SVOCs, DGME, metals, and PCBs. Evaluation of the analytical results from site investigation, contaminants of concern in surface soil and subsurface soil meet residential and non-residential cleanup goals. A deed restriction prohibiting the withdrawal or use of groundwater at the site will be established.
